President's Report

April 27, 2016

As I look back on my biennium as president of the CWLC, I can sincerely say "what an honor it has been." Our increase in membership, our stimulating program presentations, the opportunity to socialize prior to each meeting, the development and growth of our website, the development and revision of our constitution (now called Principles and Guidelines) and the celebration of our 110th anniversary, came together for club activities that all of us can be proud to say "we made it happen." Although I am tempted to single out certain members for their contribution to the success of our endeavors, I would be remiss if I didn't attribute our accomplishments to the cooperation and contribution of everyone. We work well together! We share a common enthusiasm for literature in all its forms. We have capitalized on the diversity of background and creative abilities represented in our club. We are fortunate to have the support of the Calgary Public Library in all its branches. We are grateful to those who have carried on the work of Annie Davidson and kept the CWLC alive and well for over a century.

As I hand over the role of president to Margaret Sparkes, I promise to say "yes" if ever she needs my assistance. And to all of you, ....I say "thank you" and CHEERS to ongoing and rewarding literary feasts.
